My Dear Mrs. Grandell:-

Since I can't very well ~~come~~ Go over to see you, I will just write you a little letter. No doubt you have begun to think that I would never make the little hats for the girl's dolls that I promised to make, but at last I got them done and ~~am~~ sending them to you to-day under separate cover. I hope they will like them. I am so sorry I could not have included a few little dresses, but after ransacking through my trunk I found nothing that would do, and I am not able to buy a thing this year. - It is, indeed the poorest Xmas I ever knew in my life, as well as the saddest, for my dissappointment in Mr. Rockwell, together with his cruel and unjust treatment of me, has almost crushed me! I am afraid now that he is really a man without principle or honor, and cannot be true to any one woman, - Oh you can ill imagine what I have suffered since we were out on Thanksgiving day, - but there, I must not complain to you, - I know you have troubles of your own, most everybody has -

I hope you are well, and the children also, bless their dear little hearts. I had hoped so much to be somehow situated so as to invite you all to Xmas with us, - and have a tree for the children, - I looked forward to this with so much pleasure, - but in vain it seems for it is but a few days hence, and I am alone and unable to do anything.

Wishing you a merry christmas, I am, Sincerely yours -

Pauline Rockwell -

P.S. I enclose a little nerve medicine which you may find useful, P.R.

Dear Lady: I am addressing you for Mr. Crosier whom you know can not write you now. He wishes to thank you for the nice photos of yourself and family which he rec'd. all in fine shape last week Thurs. I believe. He and the rest of us call them very good & we expect they are natural of you all. It makes a pretty oup. Mr. C. mad [illegible] esents to any one this year. He [illegible] could not get out to attend to such things besides his afflictions, nurses bills, Drs & all other necessary bills, along with his infirmities, tends to depress, rather than cheer, or pay heed to such things now even if at "Christmas time". Mr. C. gains a little all the while. I believe I told you that he had, had two shocks. He was Thanking you again for the nice photos in Mr. C's behalf I will close. Yours respect—paralyzed entire right-sid He can walk a little by holding to some object with left-hand and some one to hold on his right-side. But it is slow work and it must take time to see the great gain. He can not use his right-hand, although we see a gain about that slowly Very hard it is for one who has led such a busy active life as he had. It does seem to bad he has always been so kind to everyone. Christmas day at night we had our first snow some three or four inches so it makes sleighing at the pres t time. We often speak of Cal. and how lovely it seem to us, it must be there now. While we shiver, and se every where all white snow. But the home is warm d we still have the same kind of flowers that d here when I came here five years ago next July. not know as I shall be here a great while longer e talk of a son coming in here on account of Mr. C's c dition. Hardly know what arrangements will be made yet. Mr. C. inquires what has become of Jack? We would all like to get into your water melon patch & orange grove. It seemed like a good many months to raise as you mentioned a while ago
